Commentary

In January, the NAV per share was up 1.1%, the share price was up 1.3% and the benchmark NASDAQ Biotechnology Index (sterling adjusted) was up 2.0%.

Juno Therapeutics, Global Blood Therapeutics, and Vertex were the top positive contributors to performance during the month. Juno shares appreciated during the month following the announcement of the company's acquisition by Celgene. Shares of Global Blood were strong in January after the disclosure of FDA Breakthrough Therapy Designation for its sickle cell disease treatment voxelotor based in part on preliminary data from an ongoing Phase 3 study. Vertex shares continued to outperform following disclosure of updated Phase 2 data from the company's cystic fibrosis triple combination programs which exceeded expectations.

Puma Biotechnology and Celgene were the largest negative contributors to performance during the month. Puma shares were weak due to a negative E.U. regulatory update for neratinib in breast cancer. Shares of Celgene underperformed in January after the company provided weaker than expected financial guidance.

Investment Policy

In order to achieve its investment objective, the Company invests in a diversified portfolio of shares and related securities in biotechnology companies on a worldwide basis. The Company will not invest more than 15% of the value of its gross assets in any one individual stock at the time of acquisition. It will not invest more than 10% of the value of its gross assets in direct unquoted investments at the time of acquisition. This limit does not include any investment in private equity funds managed by the Portfolio Manager or any affiliates of such entity. Up to US$15m, after the deduction of proceeds of disposal and other returns of capital, may be invested in private equity funds managed by OrbiMed Capital LLC or an affiliate. The Company's borrowing policy is that borrowings will not exceed 20% of the Company's net assets. The Company may be unable to invest directly in certain countries. In these circumstances, the Company may gain exposure to companies in such countries by investing indirectly through swaps. Where the Company invests in swaps, exposure to underlying assets will not exceed 5% of the gross assets of the Company at the time of entering into the contract.

Discount Control Mechanism

The Directors have adopted an active discount management policy to establish and support an improved rating in the Company's shares through the use of share buybacks, with a view to limiting the discount to NAV per share at which the shares trade to no more than 6%. Shares bought back will be cancelled.

The Biotech Growth Trust PLC conducts its affairs so that its shares can be recommended by independent financial advisers ("IFAs") to retail private investors. The shares are excluded from the Financial Conduct Authority's ("FCA's") restrictions which apply to non-mainstream investment products because they are shares in a UK-listed investment trust.
